Canadian School of Osteopathy Manual Practice – Vancouver

WELCOME TO THE CSO,

The academic year has just started and we have the pleasure of welcoming you, our passionate new students.

Andrew Taylor Still said that “osteopaths were engineers of the organism”. They know the workings of the mechanisms that guarantee, safeguard and preserve the balance needed to maintain health.

You have chosen Osteopathy manual practice, which will enable you to address and respond to your patients’ needs and provide tangible solutions to resolve your patients’ health problems.

The Collège d’Études Ostéopathiques (C.E.O.) and the Canadian School of Osteopathy (C.S.O.) bring together renowned North American and European teachers, able to transmit their knowledge and clinical experience. The success of our programs resides in their availability and commitment to the growth of each student’s palpation skills and overall competence.

We are proud of the warm and mutually supportive environment that prevails in our schools.

Research is an important element in the training process to become an Osteopath. After completing your undergraduate studies, you will be able to meet the needs of patients. Following completion of your research, you will be able to cope with the complexity of these patients.

We wish you success in your academic endeavors. It is our pleasure to welcome all of you who are interested in pursuing a comprehensive course of study in Osteopathy and in acquiring the knowledge and “know-how” required to become a rigorous practitioner with a well-trained hand.

We look forward to meeting you in the near future.

STUDENTS MUST CONFORM TO THE FINANCIAL RULES OF COLLEGE WHICH MAY BE CHANGED WITHOUT FURTHER NOTICE.

CSO Library

The Library is open Mon-Fri from 9 a.m. to 3:30 PM and is for the exclusive use of the students and teachers of CSO.

1. LOANS

The coordinator of the Documentation Center determines which documents can be borrowed, in accordance with the provisions of this regulation.

1.1 Student card

The student ID is left by the student to the coordinator of the Library when books, recording is borrowed. The card would be given back only when all the material on loan is returned.

1.2 User liability

The user is responsible for a document borrowed under his name until the full return of the latter at the Library.

1.3 Loan duration

See Annex 1

1.4 Loan and renewal

A loan can be renewed:

- In person with the coordinator of the Documentation Center
- By phone
- By email

A loan shall be refused if:

- One document or more is overdue;
- The patron's record indicates unpaid fees greater than 2,00$ or any restrictions or irregularities.

A renewal shall be refused if:

- The document is overdue;
- The document is reserved by another patron;
- The patron's record indicates unpaid fees greater than 2,00$ or any restrictions or irregularities.

A maximum of three reservations can be placed at the same time by the same user, for all categories of documents.

1.5 Documents return

Borrowed documents should be returned to the coordinator of the Library or to the On-Site Administrator during the opening hours. Under no circumstances should a document left somewhere else inside the CSO's premises.

1.7 Overdue documents and fines

A patron who returns an overdue document should pay a fine in accordance with the applicable fees set out in Annex 2.

A courtesy notice will be sent by email to the patron two days before the due date of his loan, as well as one week after the due date of his loan if he has overdue documents. When a document has been overdue for two weeks, a new notice will be sent to the patron and the coordinator of the Library warns his study director, if the patron is a student, or the College direction, if the patron is an instructor or an employee, that library fees remain unpaid. The failure of the reception of a courtesy notice by a patron doesn't relieve him from his responsibilities towards the borrowed documents.

The maximal fee for an overdue document is of $30.00, for any category of documents.

Any unpaid fee will be reported to the student's College bill on April 1st, which can block his admission to final exams or the delivery of his diploma.

Any can pay his library fees to the coordinator of the Library, without the need of producing an invoice by cash only.

1.8 Damaged documents

The user is responsible, under any circumstance, of the documents he borrows.

The user must check the physical state of the documents he borrows and notify the coordinator of the Library of any anomaly.

The user must ensure that the documents will not be annotated, sketched, underlined, cut, torn or damaged otherwise.

The user who, in the opinion of the coordinator of the Documentation Center, damages or breaks a document must pay its replacement fees, calculated on the base price of Québec authorized book suppliers.

The user can also buy the same document himself, in the same edition as the damaged document, and hand it to the coordinator of the Library as a means of payment.

1.9 Stolen or lost documents

A document is considered lost if 120 days have elapsed since the date it was supposed to be returned.

After 120 days for a regular loan, the Library can replace any document considered lost and demand the reimbursement of replacement fees, calculated on the document's base price of Québec authorized book suppliers, to the user.

If a user brings back a document considered lost when the Library has already initiated the procedure of repurchasing the document, all fees remain borne by the user.

If a user brings back a document considered lost and the Library hasn't initiated the procedure of repurchasing the document, he only has to pay his late fees.

The user can also buy the same document himself, in the same edition as the damaged document, and hand it to the coordinator of the Library as a mean of payment.

1.10 Loss of loan privilege

A user who doesn't pay his fees exceeding $2.00 loses his loan and renewal privileges as long as those fees aren't settled.

A user who has a debt owed to the CSO could also lose his loan privilege.

2. USER OBLIGATIONS – RULES OF CONDUCT

In accordance with the mandate entrusted to the coordinator of the Library in order to allow users to work in the best possible conditions, the latter must ensure that users comply with the following rules of conduct:

- a) NO food or drink consumption in the Library.
- b) Users must avoid producing any noise that can disturb the concentration of other users;
- c) Users must avoid any improper behaviour towards other users or towards the Documentation Center's staff.

3. SANCTIONS

Any individual, who contravenes with one of the dispositions of this regulation may be admonished by the coordinator of the Library and, on request, may undergo an identity check or an inspection of his personal belongings.

Moreover, any individual who contravenes with one of the dispositions of this regulation may be exposed to sanctions, which could be a formal reprimand, an immediate expulsion from the Library, withdrawal of his access and loan privileges or any other measure or sanctions established by the Collège d'Études Ostéopathiques de Montréal, as well as legal remedies.
